DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 34-46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 34-46 are drawn to functional descriptive material embodied on a computer readable medium (i.e., "data structures and computer programs which impart functionality when employed as a computer component" at MPEP 2106.IV.B(1)). However, the program/algorithm itself merely manipulates data or an abstract idea, or merely solves a mathematical problem without a limitation to a practical application in the technological arts. MPEP 2106.IV.B.2(a) (Statutory Product Claims) states:

A claim limited to a ... manufacture, which has a practical application in the technological arts, is statutory.

In order for a claimed invention to accomplish a practical application, it must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result" State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02 (see MPEP 2106.II.A). Currently, the claim does not recite a practical application. In order to for the claimed product to produce a "useful, concrete and tangible" result, recitation of one or more of the following elements is suggested:

The manipulation of data that represents a physical object or activity transformed from outside the computer (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(i)).

A physical transformations outside the computer, for example in the form of pre or post computer processing activity (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(i)).

A direct recitation of a practical application in the technological arts (MPEP 2106 IVB2(b)(ii)).

In the present case, an explicit recitation of a physical post-processing activity (e.g. a step of charging a sub-region, as opposed to calculating a value which may be used for that purpose) is suggested.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-33 are allowed.
4. Claims 34-46, insofar as they are understood, would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 USC §101 set forth in this Office action.
5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Re claims 1, 15, 26, & 34 (and dependent claims 2-14, 16-25, 27-33, & 35-46), the art of record does not teach or suggest the recited arrangement of determining a pel pulse width value based on a pattern of surrounding pel in conjunction with the recited use of two adjacent pel pulse width values to calculate a combined pulse width and determine position information indicating an alignment of a resulting sub-region associated with the two adjacent pels.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Cianciosi et al (Figures 3A-3D), Frazier (Figures 5-8), Amm et al (column 5, line 64 - column 6, line 2) disclose examples of pulse width modulation involving adjacent pixels.
